

Fellows Program for Producing a Photo Bank in the CD-ROM format

Ken Ujie
Associate Professor
East Asian Languages and Literatures
Washington and Lee University

I received Associated Colleges of the South's Technology Fellowship in order to produce a Photo Bank in the CD-ROM format in 2003. I took many pictures in Japan during the spring term and a CD-ROM that contains approximately 380 photos is distributed through the Copyright-free Audio-Visual Resource Center, which was established at the Department of East Asian Languages and Literatures of Washington and Lee University in 1998. The photos that are in the CD-ROM are also on my website (<http://home.wlu.edu/~ujiek/avrci.html>) and can be downloaded for free. The information about how to obtain a CD-ROM is on the bottom of the above-mentioned website.

Thank you very much for funding my project.
